

A robust modular sectional sofa

Pio is a flexible modular sectional sofa that's eminently suitable for public spaces. Robust, durable construction for spaces that place slightly greater demands on quality without compromising on design. It has a modern design and can be ideally placed in spaces where there are many people, such as schools, museums, exhibitions, corridors and other meeting places. Together with a laptop table, it can also act as a temporary touch down or meeting place. A gap between the seat and the back prevents dirt and bacteria from accumulating, keeping it clean for longer. You can use the different modules to create infinite formations. It's possible to use contrasting fabrics and colours on the different parts. Meets EN16139 requirements.

Choose from the hundreds of fabrics in Kinnarps Colour Studio, which all meet stringent quality requirements.
